Replacement Products:

No replacement products are available at this time.

Remaining Availability - End Customers:

Education customers in the US can still purchase the Logitech Crayon for Education edition (USB-C) from Apple Education.

It is advised that customers immediately coordinate with local resellers to process final purchase orders for Logitech Crayon. To address needs while supplies last, please consult your reseller or Logitech representative to confirm availability. Inventory for this final purchase window is limited and subject to strict regional allocation.

Warranty and Customer Support:

Standard support and Logitech's hardware warranty—spanning one to three years based on the specific model—remain in full effect throughout the established term. Business partners requiring technical assistance or troubleshooting may reach out via https://sync.logitech.com/hub/support.

Questions:

In the event of questions related to this end of sale notification, please contact your reseller or Logitech account manager.
